

2006-2007

THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE, KNOXVILLE

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENT

Statement of Purpose. General education provides the foundation for successful academic study, for lifelong learning, and for carrying out the duties of local, national, and global citizenship. By building basic skills in communication, analysis, and computation as well as by broadening students' historical and cultural perspectives, the general education curriculum helps students acquire an understanding of both self and society, and thus contributes to their personal enrichment while enrolled and after graduation.

The University of Tennessee's general education program has been designed to enable the student to move among colleges within the university or to move to another institution of higher learning. Although it will provide the students with the skills required by college study, those skills are specific neither to UT Knoxville nor to a particular major or career path.

Outcomes. The program is expected to produce the following outcomes for the students.

Building Basic Skills. Because the hallmark of the educated person is the ability to think independently, students must be trained to acquire, evaluate, and use information.

- Students must be able to acquire information by conducting independent research, both in a conventional library setting and through the use of the rapidly developing electronic technologies, including databases and internet resources.
- Students must then learn to evaluate the reliability, accuracy, and logical soundness of that information. The students will be taught to apply evaluative techniques to statistical and rhetorical presentations in arts, humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences.
- Students must be trained to use the information that they have acquired. They must write clearly, speak convincingly, and solve problems using creative approaches.

Developing Broadened Perspectives. General education should help students develop habits of self-examination in the context of the individual's relationship to family, community, society, and world. To this end, general education should also help foster a commitment to respecting the diversity of personal and cultural values.

- Students should be able to explain their own values and beliefs, as well as to understand the histories and cultures behind those values. Students should also develop a commitment to lifelong learning so that they may continue to examine the relationships between their personal perspectives and the perspectives that arise from other cultures.
- Students should strengthen their sensitivity to cultural diversity by studying the histories and traditions of other cultures, both within and outside the United States; and by understanding the dynamic nature of a multicultural world through interdisciplinary perspectives or by learning other languages.

These are the General Education requirements (See Notes)

A. For Building Basic Skills

- I. Communicating through Writing (3 courses including English 101 and 102 plus an approved writing-intensive course). Good writing skills enable students to create and share ideas, investigate and describe values, and record discoveries – all skills that are necessary not only for professional success but also for personal fulfillment in a world where communication increasingly takes place through electronic media. Students must be able to identify areas for inquiry, locate relevant information, evaluate its usefulness and quality, and incorporate the information logically and ethically. They must be able to write correctly, and they must be aware that different audiences and purposes call for different rhetorical responses.

To satisfy this requirement, students take the first-year composition sequence and, upon completion of English 101 and 102 or their equivalent (see Note 4), take one other course designated as "writing-intensive" (WC) in the undergraduate catalog. The writing-intensive courses can be within the student's major or an elective. In order to gain a (WC) designation, courses shall require formal and informal writing assignments that total 5,000 words.

- II. Communicating Orally (1 course). The ability to communicate one's ideas orally is as important as the ability to express them well in writing. Students should be able to speak in an informative and/or convincing manner to other individuals and to groups, both small and large. Being able to express one's thoughts clearly has always been a critical component of good citizenship. Students should be able to locate relevant information, evaluate its usefulness and quality, and incorporate the information logically and ethically in public address. (See Note 5.) This requirement may be completed by
- (1) completion of Communication Studies 210 or 240
or
(2) completion of a course with an (OC) designation.

APPROVED COMMUNICATING ORALLY (OC) COURSES

Aerospace Engineering
410 Professional Development

Animal Science
360 Horse, Dairy, and Meat Animal Evaluation

Biology

III. Quantitative Reasoning (2 courses). In today's world, arguments and claims often rely for support on scientific studies and statistical evidence. Students should possess the mathematical and quantitative skills to evaluate such evidence. Furthermore, students should possess the skills both to recognize the quantitative dimension of problems and to use mathematical reasoning to formulate and solve the problem. Finally, students need strong quantitative skills because they are indispensable in managing everyday-life situations. This requirement may be completed by either of the following.

(1) Taking two mathematics or statistics courses from the list below. (Preferably, these courses would be taken in one of the following pairings: Mathematics 113 and 115; Mathematics 123 and 125; Mathematics 141 and 142; Mathematics 147 and 148; Mathematics 151 and 152; Mathematics 125, 141 or 147 and Statistics 201 or 207; Mathematics 115 and 123 or 125 or 202.)

Mathematics

- 113 Mathematical Reasoning
- 115 Statistical Reasoning
- 117 Honors Mathematical Reasoning
- 123 Finite Mathematics
- 125 Basic Calculus
- 141–142 Calculus I, II
- 147–148 Honors: Calculus I, II
- 151–152 Mathematics for the Life Sciences I, II
- 202 Probability, Statistics, and Euclidean Geometry

Statistics

- 201 Introduction to Statistics
- 207 Honors: Introduction to Statistics

or

(2) taking one mathematics course from the list above and one course designated in the undergraduate catalog as having a quantitative component (QR). The course designated as having a quantitative component may be within the student's major or an elective.

APPROVED QUANTITATIVE REASONING (QR) COURSES

Architecture

- 331 Architectural Structures I

Computer Science

- 100 Introduction to Computers and Computing
- 102 Introduction to Computer Science

Interior Design

- 460 Lighting for Interior Design

Music Technology

- 290 Sound Recording Techniques

University Honors

- 187 Quantitative Reasoning Honors Seminar

B. For Developing Broadened Perspectives

I. Natural Sciences (2 courses). As science and technology come to play an increasingly important role in contemporary life, it is essential for all educated persons to have a fundamental understanding of science and its methods. All students should be familiar with one or more scientific disciplines and the role of science in contemporary society. Such familiarity may be gained through acquisition of knowledge of a discipline's basic vocabulary, chief discoveries, and fundamental principles; exposure to a discipline's experimental techniques; and the ability to analyze issues with scientific dimensions. This requirement is satisfied by taking two courses from the approved list. At least one of the courses must have a laboratory.

APPROVED NATURAL SCIENCES (NS) COURSES

(† NON-LAB COURSES)

Anthropology

- 110 Human Origins†

Astronomy

- 151 A Journey through the Solar System†
- 152 Stars, Galaxies, and Cosmology†
- 161 A Journey through the Solar System with Laboratory
- 162 Stars, Galaxies, and Cosmology with Laboratory
- 217–218 Honors: Introductory Astronomy

Biology

- 101–102 Humankind in the Biotic World
- 111–112 General Botany
- 130 Biodiversity
- 140 Organization and Function of the Cell
- 157 Honors Experimental Biology

Chemistry

- 100 Principles of Chemistry
- 110 Introduction to Organic and Biochemistry
- 120–130 General Chemistry I and II
- 128–138 Honors: General Chemistry I and II

Entomology and Plant Pathology

- 201 Impact of Insects and Plant Diseases on Human Society†

Forestry, Wildlife and Fisheries

- 250 Conservation†

Geography

- 131–132 Geography of the Natural Environment I and II

Geology

- 101 The Dynamic Earth
- 102 Earth, Life, and Time
- 103 The Earth's Environment
- 107 Honors: The Dynamic Earth
- 108 Honors: Earth, Life, and Time
- 201 Biodiversity: Past, Present, and Future†
- 202 Earth As An Ecosystem: Modern Problems and Solutions†
- 203 Geology of National Parks†
- 205 Age of the Dinosaurs†

Microbiology

- 210 General Microbiology

Nutrition

- 100 Introductory Nutrition†

Physics

- 101–102 How Things Work I and II†
- 135–136 Introduction to Physics for Physical Science and Mathematics Majors I and II
- 137–138 Honors: Fundamentals of Physics for Physics Majors I and II
- 161 Elements of Physics for Architects and Interior Design Students†
- 221–222 Elements of Physics
- 231 Fundamentals of Physics: Electricity and Magnetism
- 232 Fundamentals of Physics: Wave Motion, Optics, and Modern Physics

II. Arts and Humanities (2 courses). To live well in the present, one must have an acquaintance with the past, especially with the cultural achievements that are the distinctive hallmarks of all human societies. An appreciation of art, music, theater, literature, and philosophy will not only enrich the lives of students, but it will also help them understand their own and other's aspirations, both in a historical and a contemporary context. This requirement is satisfied by taking two courses from the list below.

APPROVED ARTS AND HUMANITIES (AH) COURSES

Africana Studies

- 162 Art of Africa, Oceania, and Pre-Columbian America (same as Art History 162)
- 233 Major Black Writers (same as English 233)

Architecture

- 111 Architecture and the Built Environment
- 211 History and Theory of Architecture I
- 212 History and Theory of Architecture II

Art History

- 162 Art of Africa, Oceania, and Pre-Columbian America (same as Africana Studies 162)
- 167 Honors: Art of Africa, Oceania, and Pre-Columbian America

- 257 Special Topics in the Arts and Humanities

III. Social Sciences (2 courses). The goal of the social sciences is to help us understand the way that we live, especially the relation between the individual and the group, sometimes from an historical but often from a contemporary perspective. Vital to the continued health and success of our society is an understanding of the complex individual, political, and social dynamics that make up the modern world. Students should not only have knowledge of the principal concerns of the social sciences, but they should also understand the methods by which social scientists collect and evaluate knowledge. This requirement is satisfied by taking two courses from the following list.

APPROVED SOCIAL SCIENCES (SS) COURSES

Africana Studies

- 201 Introduction to African-American Studies
- 202 Introduction to African-American Studies

Anthropology

- 130 Cultural Anthropology

Child and Family Studies

- 210 Human Development
- 220 Marriage and Family: Roles and Relationships (same as Women's Studies 230)

Economics

- 201 Introductory Economics: A Survey Course
- 207 Honors: Introductory Economics

Geography

- 101-102 World Geography

Political Science

- 102 Introduction to Political Science

Psychology

- 110 General Psychology
- 117 Honors: General Psychology

Sociology

- 110 Social Justice and Social Change
- 117 Honors: Social Justice and Social Change
- 120 General Sociology
- 127 Honors: General Sociology

University Honors

- 167 Social Science Honors Seminar
- 267 Special Topics in the Social Sciences

Women's Studies

- 230 Marriage and Family: Roles and Relationships (same as Child and Family Studies 220)

IV. Cultures and Civilizations (2 courses). Knowledge of foreign languages and cultures and their histories have long been required of educated people. Today technologies of travel and communication create global communities, and so increase the importance of this knowledge. While it is not possible to become expert in all cultures and civilizations, a perspective on which to build knowledge over a lifetime can be gained by study of foreign languages and the study of the cultures and histories of their speakers. This perspective improves the ability of students to function effectively in the global community of the twenty-first century by developing an appreciation of linguistic, historical, and cultural diversity. This requirement is satisfied by either

(1) taking two courses from the following list

or

(2) taking a two-course sequence in a foreign language at the intermediate level.

APPROVED CULTURES AND CIVILIZATIONS (CC) COURSES

Africana Studies

235–236 Introduction to African Studies

Anthropology

120 Prehistoric Archaeology

Asian Studies

101–102 Asian Civilization

NOTES

- (1) Some courses on the various General Education course lists may have prerequisites. Students are responsible for meeting all course prerequisites.
- (2) A student's college/program may require specific General Education courses.
- (3) General Education courses must be taken for a letter grade (i.e., A-F) rather than Satisfactory/No Credit (unless this is the only way the course is offered).
- (4) See College of Arts and Sciences Basic Skills Requirement- Communicating through Writing in the Undergraduate Catalog for information on course equivalencies for English 101 and 102.
- (5) The Office of Disability Services (ODS) is committed to providing equal opportunities for students with disabilities at the University of Tennessee. Appropriate accommodations will be made to enable persons with disabilities to satisfy the General Education requirements. Students with documented disabilities should contact the Office of Disability Services for assistance with appropriate accommodations at (865) 974-6087 or ods@tennessee.edu.
- (6) Subcommittees of the Undergraduate Council General Education Committee are charged with management of the courses to be included on the General Education course lists for the Basic Skills and Broadened Perspectives areas. The most current list of General Education courses is posted at <http://web.utk.edu/~ugcouncil>.
